

2019 Toyota Family Teacher of the Year Nomination Overview

The National Center for Families Learning (NCFL) thanks you for investing your time to nominate a great family educator for the 2019 Toyota Family Teacher of the Year Award. NCFL and Toyota initiated this partnership 23 years ago to recognize the teachers in the nation who are best at engaging families in the educational process. School and community-based teachers who are exceptional at engaging families are eligible for nomination.

Following a careful review of the selection criteria, please complete the online nomination form. You do have the option to fill in individual sections, save your incomplete entry, and return to your initiated application form at another time. All required domains must be completed before submitting your nomination.

Anyone with comprehensive knowledge about the nominee is eligible to complete the nomination form. Programs may nominate up to two family educators using separate nomination forms. Self-nominations will be disqualified. Incomplete nominations or late submissions will not be accepted.

To complete your application, please complete the required information and confirmations, and submit your nomination letter and optional attachments in the space provided. Optional attachments do not count against the character count.

For your convenience, you can download a PDF version of this application to view all questions before beginning your nomination. Once you have reviewed and made notes to this printable application, the form must be submitted online.

Please submit your nomination no later than 11:59 p.m. EDT on Friday, June 14, 2019. For assistance or questions, please contact Karen Richardson at KRichardson@familieslearning.org.
